ADVERTISEMENT FOR TWO (02) POSITIONS OF PROJECT COMPUTER PROGRAMMER (ON CONTRACT)

Indian Institute of Science Education and Research (IISER) Kolkata, invites applications from Indian nationals for the two contractual project positions in the following project:

1. Project Title: Augmenting Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) system of IISER Kolkata by developing administrative software modules in-house

Project Objectives: Current ERP system of IISER Kolkata primarily consists of Academic Modules that have been developed in-house by employing open-source software. However, it currently lacks some key Administrative Modules such as (i) Finance and Accounts, (ii) Purchase and Stores, (iii) Payroll and HR, and other administrative modules.

The primary objective of this project is to develop different Administrative Modules in-house in a phased manner for augmenting the ERP system of IISER Kolkata.

Nature of Job: Primarily software development and related user support for the Institute ERP system which is being developed and is envisaged to have multiple different modules. Additional responsibilities may be assigned.

2. Project Title: Development and maintenance of iCIF web portal of IISER Kolkata.

Project Objectives: IISER Kolkata has taken an initiative to establish a Central Instruments Facility (iCIF) with the objective of providing a centralized platform equipped with advanced analytical instruments to support cutting edge research across various disciplines of science and technology.

In order to ensure smooth functioning and effective dissemination of information related to iCIF instruments, the Project Computer Programmer will work closely with ERP team to develop user and admin interface for booking and payment systems, regular maintenance and updating of the iCIF web portal.

Nature of Job: Primarily software development and related user support for the iCIF web portal and integration with existing ERP or any other additional responsibilities as assigned from time to time.
